BUILDING RESILIENCY

DEVELOPMENT PROJECT IN LADAKH

LOCATION

MULBEKH MAHASANGHA RETREAT CENTRE

Ladakh “land of high passes” lies in the main great Himalayas, inhabited by people of Indo-Aryan and Tibetan descent. It is one of the most sparsely populated regions in Jammu and Kashmir and its culture and history are closely related to that of Tibet.

Since 1969 over 7000 Tibetan refugees found Ladakh to be their second home.

Ladakh's remote location protected it from colonization and development until 1974 when the regional airport was built, opening it to the West. This meant new possibilities for the Ladakhis but decreased work opportunities as the imported goods became subsidized. Rural migration increased creating an overpopulated capital, poor quality of houses, and waste problems. Ever since, Ladakh's sustainable way of life and unique culture, language and identity have been threatened.
